Micro-Metcalf Program
To help UChicago students thrive in the age of the gig economy, the Micro-Metcalf Program offers “micro-internships”—paid, short-term projects with employers. Students can apply for these opportunities year-round to learn new skills, build their resume, and explore potential career paths.

Treks
Career treks bring groups of students to visit employers, build their professional network, and learn how they can be top candidates for internships and full-time jobs throughout the U.S. and around the world.

Recruiting Forums
Recruiting forums are “speed networking” style events that help students meet a high volume of employers at a single event. Career Advancement offers recruiting forums around the world, including China, California, and Houston.

Post-Graduation Fellowships
The Kimpton Fellows Program places graduating fourth years in year-long fellowships that provide full-time jobs in a wide variety of industries. In addition to substantive career experiences, Kimpton Fellows also have access to special professional development seminars that help them hit the ground running in their career.

Career Exploration Week for New First Years
Career Exploration Week programs give incoming first years the opportunity to meet their new classmates and immerse themselves in a career field that interests them. Students explore a new city, visit leading employers, and participate in cultural activities.

Career Support from Day 1
UChicago students begin their career journey before they arrive on campus. All incoming students are matched with a Career Advancement adviser who will help them create a plan for their four years and beyond. Career advisers provide personalized support to students throughout their time at UChicago. Students work closely with their advisers to explore potential career paths, identify opportunities that match their interests, and prepare effective application materials for jobs, internships, and other opportunities.

Going Beyond Traditional Recruiting
In addition to traditional events such as career fairs, Career Advancement offers unique and innovative opportunities for employers and students to connect, including targeted class-year events, underrepresented student empowerment programs, and “speed networking” recruiting forums throughout the globe.

Jeff Metcalf Internship Program
UChicago provides more than 3,500 project-based, substantive paid internship opportunities each year in more than 250 cities and 50 countries around the world through the Jeff Metcalf Internship Program. Career Advancement’s established network of employers from a wide range of industries hire UChicago students for quality professional experiences that cultivate and support students’ long-term career success.

Job Shadowing
UChicago alumni and employers host students for job shadowing opportunities that let students experience daily life in their field of interest. Job shadowing helps students get their foot in the door, connect with professional mentors, and start building their resume.
