Micro-Metcalf Program
To help UChicago students thrive in the age of the gig economy, the Micro-Metcalf Program offers “micro-internships”—paid, short-term projects with employers. Students can apply for these opportunities year-round to learn new skills, build their resume, and explore potential career paths.

Treks
Career treks bring groups of students to visit employers, build their professional network, and learn how they can be top candidates for internships and full-time jobs throughout the U.S. and around the world.

Recruiting Forums
Recruiting forums are “speed networking” style events that help students meet a high volume of employers at a single event. Career Advancement offers recruiting forums around the world, including China, California, and Houston.

Post-Graduation Fellowships
The Kimpton Fellows Program places graduating fourth years in year-long fellowships that provide full-time jobs in a wide variety of industries. In addition to substantive career experiences, Kimpton Fellows also have access to special professional development seminars that help them hit the ground running in their career.

Career Exploration Week for New First Years
Career Exploration Week programs give incoming first years the opportunity to meet their new classmates and immerse themselves in a career field that interests them. Students explore a new city, visit leading employers, and participate in cultural activities.
THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Comprehensive Preparation for Rising Professionals

Through our pre-professional programs, UChicago provides hands-on support, expert advising, employer connections, and valuable workplace experiences to prepare students for careers in specific industries. Career Advancement values our partnerships with a growing network of 1,000+ employers worldwide from many different industries that recruit UChicago talent for internships, full-time jobs, graduate school, and more! Employers have opportunities to recruit on campus, host student visits, and create customized recruiting programs designed to fit their needs.

It is not an exaggeration to say that all the candidates were outstanding, and we would have been pleased to work with any one of them. Sometimes the cliche is true, that are the best of the best.”

— Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

“
It is important to note that UChicago has done a great job of educating and developing bright young minds. Which is evident as we continue to hire more and more of your students.”

— Goldman Sachs
